

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Local value chains

Diversity

Participation

Diversity

Considerate of other people's perspectives

Food system approach

Reducing income inequality

All encompassing

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Taking into account the interests of ALL stakeholders

Multi-perspective

Mutually beneficial to all involved and affected

Benefit sharing

Holistic

Involving the people whom this is about (the poor, the farmers) in this very discussion

Involving 'locals'

Equity

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Space for everybody to contribute to the development and implementation of action, where input is valued and appreciated equally

Nothing about us without us

Joint design from early phases

Collaboration, especially with minority groups

Not only sitting at the table but also have the power to decide

Beyond the usual suspects

Broad representation.

People that need and want to be involved, are involved

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Not omitting anything or anyone that are important to reach shared goals and objectives

Participation

Informal sector

It means everyone, irrespective of religion, culture, race, gender or economic background, is included

Leaving no-one behind in policy design and implementation

Taking into regard the opinions and interests of various people groups for one purpose

Not about without

Avoid exclusivity!

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Participation by all relevant

Dealing with uneven trade barriers

Inclusivity means the whole value chain, including the consumers

All farmers, citizens involved

Leave nobody behind

Including diverse range of stakeholders in food systems, as well as diversifying food production

Seat back and let people decide what their needs and visions on food system are

Multi stakeholder approach

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Inclusion of societal costs into pricing mechanisms

Integration of needs and desires of people who are affected by the intervention

Joint decisionsbenefits sharing

Hearing every interested party and acting transparently on it

Governance

Leave no one behind

Exchange of knowledge from/all stakeholders on equal basis

Bottom-up

What does 'inclusivity' mean to you?

Involving informal actors