

What is your advice to the new Dutch Minister of Agriculture, Fishery, Food Security and Nature?

True pricing!

Stay global

Food loss & waste

Talk with your colleague of development cooperation

Food security needs international view

Profitabke business case throughout whole local value chain

Appreciate and support (smallholder)farmers elsewhere as much as the Dutch farmers

Full cost accounting

What is your advice to the new Dutch Minister of Agriculture, Fishery, Food Security and Nature?

Phase out redundant industries

Talk with other ministries

Climate finance to food systems

Talking to and with, (inclusive $

Talk to farmers all over the world

Inclusivity is key to secure long-term interest of Agro sector. Pursue it

Inclusive Consultations BEFORE making policies and laws and not as an afterthought

Linking to clear business cases

What is your advice to the new Dutch Minister of Agriculture, Fishery, Food Security and Nature?

Align policies

its directly related to economics of health

Be bold, make your homework in terms of information, and act based on an ethical pragmatic approach. NI needs the world to feed itself too.

Not about without

Consider the effect of exporting Dutch agriculture on the SDGs, both rationally and internationally

More biodiversity = more resilience

Support sustainable practices

Integrate the importance of ecosystems and biodiversity for the future of agriculture and food security

What is your advice to the new Dutch Minister of Agriculture, Fishery, Food Security and Nature?

List priorities on approach and goals - sustainable production, inclusion, SDGs

No feed companies on trade missions

Focus on local value chains serving the increasing urban markets

Focus on the new; this is exciting for young people and will promote food system change

Let go of Dutch interest as first thing

Decolonisation of agriculture is so important, don't forget that in your day to day activities

Invest in local food systems and local indigenous knowledge

Do not forget urban agriculture

What is your advice to the new Dutch Minister of Agriculture, Fishery, Food Security and Nature?

Rename the ministry into the Ministry for a (bio)diverse future

Integrate food&nutrition security together with biodiversity in existing Climate Financing for LMICs

Be honest about the dilemma's and the need for coherent policies

Take long-term view, take the 'do no harm' approach and reduce negative impact of the Dutch way of food production and consumption

Be the guiding country in terms of lessons learned and do it better

Be a reliable partner both domestically and internationally

Make a food policy! Not just agriculture

Work together with partners to achieve impact at scale

What is your advice to the new Dutch Minister of Agriculture, Fishery, Food Security and Nature?

politicians give what the public sentiment is. Make things understood to the general population and what role they can play.

Dont forget the mistream segment connecting production and consumers.

Climate change and biodiversity are two parts of the same coin. Put these front and centre next to Food security into the Ag policy

Be truthful, reciprocal, coherent on national and International policy making and implementation

Exclude meat and dairy companies from trade missions

Have a monthly lunch with your colleague minister of BHOS and EZK on food system transformation action

Engage the Ministry of Finance on food and climate goals!

Look broader and work on the nexus water-Food-Energy and develop policy